IGSHPA 2.0 - Update

Updated January 16, 2015

In November, IGSHPA started the process of slating the inaugural IGSHPA Board of Directors. The process started with the current advisory council nominating candidates for the board of directors from six industry sectors. An electronic ballot was created and all voting members were sent a login for the ballot. Voting members chose the initial six board of directors and the new board met earlier this week via teleconference to slate the two at-large board of directors. Oklahoma State University College of Engineering, Architecture and Technology selected Dr. Dan Fisher as the OSU appointee on the Board of Directors. IGSHPA Director Bob Ingersoll will serve as a non-voting board of director as well.
