IGSHPA 2.0 Update

Updated July 11, 2014

IGSHPA received the summit design document from Glenn Tecker in mid-June. The document was sent to the summit attendees (design team) for a review to make sure what was stated in the document was what the group agreed upon and meant during the retreat. The document included a program strategy of IGSHPA core purpose and values; IGSHPA mission; a big audacious goal; and long range goals, objectives and strategies. Also an operational strategy with a governance model, program model, membership model, and finance model were presented to the group based on a group consensus of the best design model. The design team was given the chance to make changes and ask clarifying questions about the document. Once comments were received from the attendees, IGSHPA staff combined the comments into one document and the document was sent to Glenn Tecker.

What's next?

Glenn Tecker will write the draft bylaws for IGSHPA over the next few weeks from the document that has been agreed upon by the design team. The bylaws will then be sent back to the design team for a thorough review and adoption of the bylaws. We will continue to update you in the coming months about the progress of IGSHPA 2.0 and an update will be made during the 2014 conference about where IGSHPA is headed.
